Our success in the treatment of deformities during the thirty years we have been engaged in this work justifies our opinion that ninety per cent of these cases can be cured when treated in time by our methods. The methods we use are radically different from those generally employed, and our results are eminently more satisfactory. We will guarantee to straighten any case of crooked or club feet, so long as the patient is of reasonable age. Hip Disease in any stage yields to our methods; while we have demonstrated in scores of instances that spinal diseases and deformities can be perfectly and permanently cured. We have special facilities for the treatment of Infantile Paralysis, and can cure deformed and diseased limbs and joints without surgical operations. Write us regarding any case of deformity or paralysis, for our opinion is invaluable to those afflicted. We send our pamphlet to say address upon request. Our success in the treatment of deformmy address upon request.

A dispatch from Alton, Ill., to the Chicago Times says: President Mc-Kay of Shurtlett college has prohibited ragtime music in literary society programs. The students defy the order, and the crisis will come at the next meeting of the literary societies. In the two literary societies, the Alpha Zeta and the Sigma Phi, the students recently pieced out their programs with impromptu musical features in ragtime. Heretofore it has been the rule for these college literary societies to prepare programs of classical music such as meets the approval of W. D. Armstrong, director of the Shurtlett school of music. When the professor heard of the ragtime program he pro-(Continued on Page Twelve.)
